

Upon placement of assets into a charitable lead trust, the trust will pay income for one's lifetime or a term of years to the university. After expiration of the trust's term, the trust principal is either returned to you or distributed to designated beneficiaries. This arrangement is an excellent method to transfer assets to your heirs while minimizing gift or estate taxes.